

Beta Reader Service

Do you need professional but brutally honest feedback on your book?

Our beta readers will provide you with a beta reader report that outlines what's working and what's not working. Our beta readers are experienced writers that love to read, have a passion for books, and understand what makes a good book.

This is a great way to get targeted feedback from real readers. Better to hear it now rather than hear it from all the one-star reviews on Amazon later.

Getting another person's opinion is one of the foundations of the book industry.

Beta readers are vital in all stages of a book's development:

- In the middle of writing your manuscript to improve as you write
- Before sending your manuscript to an editor to cut down on editing time
- After implementing your editors changes to see what the impact is
- Before publication to see what kind of reviews you would receive
- After publication to continue to improve your book

The fact is, you spend so much time on your manuscripts that you can't see it objectively. Most successful authors often have a team of beta readers.
